GIDGEE HEALING
STRATEGIC PLAN 2018-2022
The Gidgee tree produces a tough, resilient timber that when used for firewood will burn for hours and hours. The coals of the burnt wood hold the heat of the fire, providing long lasting warmth and comfort. Together with Emu Bush, the smoking coals of the Gidgee tree are used for traditional smoking ceremonies to cleanse and purify.

The sap or gum of the Gidgee tree is sweet like honey and can be chewed to relieve a sore throat and the bark can be applied to the skin. A cluster – or ‘stand’ – of Gidgee trees often provides shelter to Kangaroos, making it a potential source of food.
THE GIDGEE WOOD

The Gidgee Wood is the essence of all that we do. It is the foundation of our philosophy, our values, and our actions.

The name Gidgee Healing is a tribute to the Gidyea or Gidgee tree, which is native to Mount Isa and other arid regions of Australia. The tree has special significance to our traditional owners who have used it extensively for generations.

As a health care service provider, the essence of Gidgee Healing embodies the healing properties of its namesake plant in a literal sense, however, there are other parallels with the tree and its use that are deeply ingrained in the DNA of the organisation. Resilience, healing, shelter, community, tradition, comfort, and care are all qualities associated with the use of the Gidgee tree and are embedded in our ethos.

The phrase ‘Gidgee wood’ has become synonymous with the Gidgee Healing philosophy – the Gidgee way. It’s how we talk about the way we do things. The Gidgee Way or The Gidgee Wood is at the core of our purpose and principles and permeates everything we do. It’s our litmus test and sense-check. It’s the measure, mode and means by which we deliver services and make decisions. It underpins our vision, mission and values and represents our present and our future. And it’s the mirror we hold ourselves up to.

Just as the abundant healing and nurturing qualities of the Gidgee tree work across different spheres, so too does Gidgee Healing’s approach to wellness. We are committed to working with every individual as a whole being – mind, body, and spirit – not just a series of symptoms and pathologies to be ‘fixed’. Our approach to healing embraces the physical, mental, emotional and cultural dimensions of everyone in our care.
VISION

Gidgee Healing’s vision is to make a significant and growing contribution towards achieving equity in health outcomes for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples of Mount Isa and the other communities in our geographic service area.

MISSION

Gidgee Healing will achieve this by providing high quality, sustainable and comprehensive primary health care services comprising a balance of clinical and population health programs for treatment, prevention and education. Our services are culturally safe, responsive to community needs, and integrated with other complementary service providers. Gidgee Healing has already broadened its scope of service to include mental health/emotional and social wellbeing and drug and alcohol/substance misuse. Gidgee will widen its scope further to include other services such as aged care and family support/child safety where these contribute to improving health outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.
VALUES AND PRINCIPLES

Our goal is to make a significant and growing contribution towards achieving equity in health outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples of Mount Isa and the other communities in our geographic service area.

Core Values

Cultural respect – We recognise the cultural diversity that exists amongst our clients and respect the rights, views, values and expectations of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in service delivery.

Health sector responsibility – We recognise that, while responsibility for improvement of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health rests with the health system as a whole, we can play a key role in ensuring responsiveness of the sector.

Holistic approach – We have adopted a holistic view of health that encompasses the wellbeing of an individual, family and community, recognising the broader social, cultural, spiritual and environmental influences on health.

Community control of primary healthcare – We support community control, participation and decision making as a fundamental component of the health system.

Building capacity – We recognise the ongoing need to build capacity for improved health outcomes through our own services and mainstream services, as well as through workforce, physical infrastructure and data management.

Working together – We recognise the importance of working with a range of government, non-government and private providers to ensure coordination of efforts for maximum benefits to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Local decision making – We are committed to local level consultation and input to health service planning and delivery.

Accountability – We are committed to improving the health of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities in our geographic area.

Promoting good health – We recognise the importance of illness prevention as a fundamental component of our health service delivery.

Functional Principles

Indigenous employment – Wherever possible, we promote the employment of Indigenous talent, balancing the need for local employment with requisite organisational skill requirements.

Employee and skill mix – We endeavour to balance the use of consultants, contractors, part-time and full-time employees to provide the best possible skill mix for service delivery.

Values based decision making – We encourage our people to make value-based business decisions that support the social and economic sustainability of the region.

Locally relevant – We adapt the delivery of our existing programs to provide locally relevant tailored solutions.
